Before starting as a freelance designer, I gained 14 years of work experience at various design agencies as a graphic designer, team lead and creative director for Dutch and international clients.

I have worked for small design studios, but also large agencies such as Acato and Mediamonks. At Hike One I had the opportunity to work for major brands such as Philips, PostNL and VodafoneZiggo.

I was already doing projects here and there alongside my regular work, but in January 2022 I started freelancing full-time. And it's been fun so far. Among other things, I helped the team at JEX with the branding of their software company, helped Fairphone with the launch of the Fairphone 5, but I also made a new logo and website for an Amsterdam law firm.

Teaching

Besides my freelance design work, I teach graphic design one day a week at the Reducations Academy in Ede.

I enjoy sharing my experiences with students.
